Additionally, this year’s “Twilight Jazz” will highlight some of the countless numbers of African-American/African-Canadian vocalists and entertainers who have defined gospel, roots, R&B, blues, jazz and popular music of all description. The continuing good news is that the TD Niagara Jazz Festival, while embracing our current health concerns will continue to embrace music lovers from around the globe, through LIVE STREAMING, allowing us to help keep culture and the arts healthy and alive during these challenging times!
